ZEPPELIN'S SHIP IS STILL FLYING

Reaches Nueremburg at Noon Today on 450 Mile
Voyage to Berlin

WRIGHT TO HONOR COUNT

(Special from United Press.)
Stuttgart, Aug. 27.—Count Zeppelin's new airship, Zeppelin III, passed over Stuttgart shortly before 10 o'clock this morning on its voyage to Berlin. The trip to Stuttgart from Friedrichshafen, about 135 miles, had been made in 5½ hours. The start from Friedrichshafen was delayed by a heavy rain last night. Messages dropped from the airship say that the balloon is behaving splendidly and no attempt at speeding will be made.

The Zeppelin III, in charge of Engineer Durr, and a small crew, is due in Bitterfeld, 220 miles away, tonight and it is believed that the dirigible will experience no difficulty in meeting the expectations.

Count Zeppelin will board the balloon in Bitterfeld tomorrow, and if everything goes well will make a triumphant entry in the German capital tomorrow afternoon. An enormous crowd gathered here to witness the flight of the balloon and though there was some disappointment that the Count himself was not aboard, Durr was cheered enthusiastically.

Everything went well with the trip until Oertheim, a few miles less than Nueremburg was reached, when it was necessary to bring the balloon to a halt to take on ballast and repair one of the propellers which had broken. This caused a delay of 2 hours, but early this afternoon, the dispatches say that the balloon had re-ascended and was continuing the journey at increased speed.

Berlin, Aug. 27.—The suggestion made by a number of enthusiastic Germans that Orville Wright in his aeroplane act as an escort tomorrow for Count Zeppelin when the latter enters Berlin in his dirigible balloon, has been abandoned. Wright never did take kindly to the proposition. He said it was "Zeppelin's show" and he wanted to be one of those doing honor to the Count instead of attempting to share in the honors of the day.

Wright said the plan would have been perfectly feasible if he could have got his aeroplane "tuned up" in time. Wright hasn't been lost sight of, however, in the enthusiasm over Zeppelin and he will probably be in the Emperor's party at Tegel when Zeppelin lands.

WALL STREET TO-DAY.

(Special from United Press.)
New York, Aug. 27.—There was a radical change in the tone at the opening this morning compared with the close-ing of Thursday. There was an absence of selling pressure noted and in its place there appeared urgent covering which caused advances in initial sales ranging from fractions to more than 2 points with the Harriman issues the feature. Southern Pacific showed a gain of nearly 3 points in the first few minutes selling at 123½. Union Pacific at the same time recorded an advance of 1½ with New York Central and Erie showing apparent gains. The market held its high percentage for only a few moments and then a reaction started which carried prices down about 1 point in a few minutes. It is a m. m. newspaper reports giving a more reassuring tone to their conception of Harriman's condition were used as an influence on the bull side at the opening. There were advances from 1 to 2 points at the beginning. As the market progressed selling from important sources was again in evidence, houses working for the highest market interests offering Union Pacific and other stocks at concessions but their offers were met by quite a scattered demand, large enough to absorb even more stocks than these interests were willing to supply. At the end of the hour the market ruled generally strong.

CLARK IS CHAMPION

(Special from United Press.)
Boston, Aug. 27.—Ellery H. Clark of the Boston Athletic Association, is today still all-around champion athlete of New England. He completely distanced his eight opponents at the annual all-around championship meet held under the auspices of the N. E. A. U. at Wood Island Park, winning by a margin of almost 400 points despite the fact that he did not take part in the mile run, the last event on the program.

YOUNG FLOOD IS IMPROVED

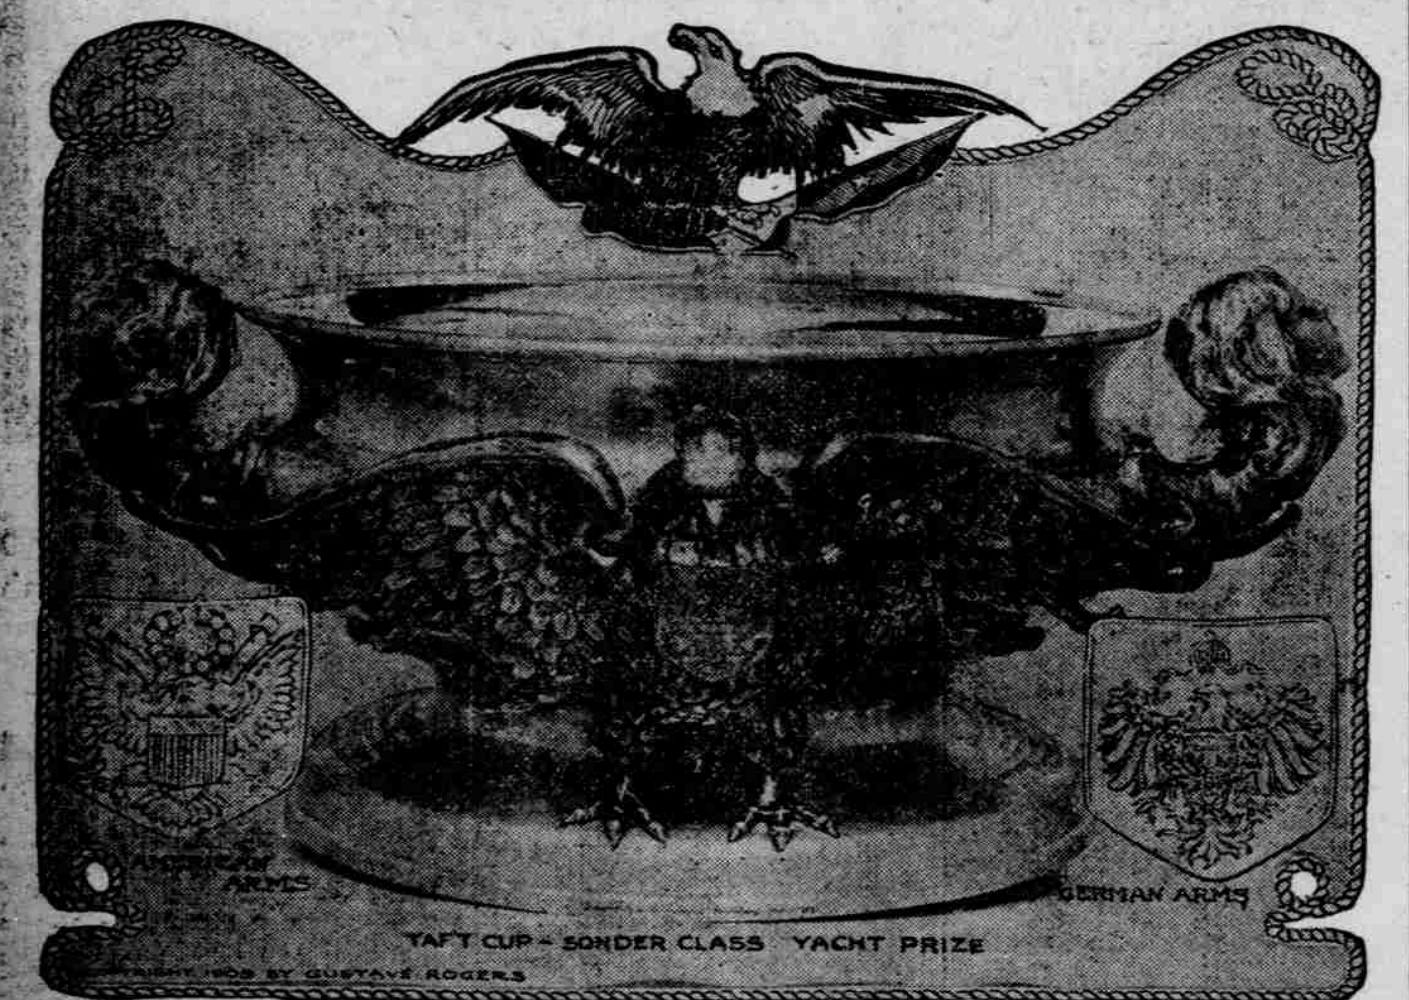

Howard Herbert Flood, the 16-year-old elevator boy at the Bridgeport Brass Co.'s plant who was run down by an automobile driven by C. S. Eames in Connecticut avenue on Wednesday night and dangerously injured, was reported this afternoon as improved. He has regained consciousness.

The River Jordan.
Concerning that unique stream, the river Jordan, Dr. Libbey, in "The Jordan Valley and Petra," writes: "Perhaps the strangest thing about this famous river is what none of the ancients ever guessed—that its course was mostly below the level of the sea. They journeyed up and down the valley since before the days of Abraham; they climbed down the roads from Jerusalem to Jericho and up into Moab and Edom; they built roads east and west of the Jordan; they built roads and bridges and cities far below the level of the Mediterranean and yet never seem to have suspected that this stream differed from most of the rivers of the globe in this respect. Greeks, Romans and Mohammedans, Jews, Christians and crusaders knew every nook and cranny of its winding course, but failed to realize that while its head and source rested high on noble Hermon's side its mouth in the Dead Sea was far below the surface of the habitable world and all the surrounding oceans."

Calamities That Didn't Occur.
When the first use was made of the natural gas wells people of a certain class were much disturbed. All sorts of evils were predicted, and warning letters were received by the companies in charge. One man sent a caution against boring much into the earth. The world was a hollow sphere, he said, filled with a gaseous substance and floating like a balloon in space. If the gas were allowed to escape disaster would follow. Another, claiming to be a scientific man, assured the owners of a well that any fire coming in contact with the escaping gas would be communicated to the gas beneath and cause terrific explosions. "Men are too inquisitive," he said. "They peer too far. Let them beware." The gas companies have kept on boring, and the world has so far held itself together.

Michael Angelo's Vow.
The story is told, but with no solid foundation, that Raphael had undertaken to decorate the walls of the mansion of Cardinal Farnesina, on the banks of the Tiber, on the condition that no one should see his work until it was completed. Michael Angelo took an oath that he would stop this work. Finding his opportunity when the artist came late to work and disguised as a seller of cakes and wine, he distracted the attention of those round the scaffold that was prepared by offering to them his wares, and, ascending, he drew upon the wall a gigantic head of Jupiter and hurriedly left the building, his vow thus accomplished. When Raphael presently came he instantly exclaimed on seeing the sketch, "Michael Angelo!" and left the palace never to return.

TAFT CUP OFFERED TO WINNER OF YACHT RACE AT MARBLEHEAD

The silver cup or bowl offered by President Taft to the winner of the international sonderclass yacht races at Marblehead on Aug. 30 and succeeding days is considered one of the finest specimens of the silversmith's art ever produced in this country. The cup is the successor of the first sonderclass trophy, offered by President Roosevelt in 1906 and won by an American yacht, and of the second cup, offered by Emperor William and captured by German yachts at Kiel in 1907. This year's prize was designed by Gustave Rogers, an artistic metal worker of Marblehead, Mass. It is an inches high, twenty-three inches and a half across and weighs about twenty-five pounds. The finish is dull. On one side of the cup in relief is the shield or coat of arms of the United States, while the other bears the German coat of arms, thus symbolizing the international character of the races. The cup will be presented to the winner by President Taft on Sept. 2 on board the Presidential yacht Mayflower.

Solved the money problem

A man owed $25 to five different people. He was earning a salary of only $10 per week, and was being constantly harassed by his creditors, who could not afford to wait until he could get enough out of his small income to pay the whole amount he owed them. To him it seemed impossible to comply with their demands until he read of us. He called, got the money he needed, paid off his creditors in full, and now has peace of mind, as he is only asked to pay us $1.00 per week in repayment of the loan. Call in and see us; we will explain to you our modern system
